First of all, I want to express our thanks to you for your invitation to the 100th Anniversary Ceremony of Moscow State University of Civil Engineering.

Dealing with the on-going Covid-19 Pandemic in Vietnam, I can't join this meaningful and special event in the history of your university.

For this special occasion, I would like to wish you health and success, and prosperity for Moscow State University of Civil Engineering. I believe that with long history of development, your university will more and more succeed in the future.

I also hope to continue to receive your support to strengthen the relation between our universities and we will have effective cooperation in the coming time.
